

Technology Services

A proven way to maximize your portfolio's ROI.

To achieve maximum return on your lease portfolio, your technology assets must remain in circulation for as long as possible. NDI's Technology Services can extend the life of your equipment with a comprehensive portfolio of services designed to support a wide-range of networking equipment - including hardware that has been labeled "End of Life" and "End of Service" by the manufacturer.

Additionally, NDI's Technology Services can be private-labeled and packaged with your leases to enhance your value among your customers. Our flexible approach allows you to customize our solutions to meet your customers' individual needs while maintaining the integrity of your brand, your way of doing things and your unique way of servicing your customers.

Remarketing Services

A better way to handle your aging lease portfolio.

To keep your total cost of ownership as low as possible, your portfolio of leasing assets must continue to produce revenue for you until the very end. NDI's Remarketing Services allow you to turn your idle inventory into cash. Best of all, NDI will manage the entire remarketing process for you from beginning to end. We can perform the de-install and hardware removal process, warehouse the equipment, remarket it to our broker and distributor channels, and reconcile it for you - allowing you to focus on your business.

Additionally, NDI can provide you with creative options for international remarketing, off-lease equipment purchases for sparing, as well as new and refurbished equipment to support your customers' product requirements.

“NDI's Remarketing Services eliminate the hassles typically associated with remarketing and disposal of network assets.”
